

European General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

Proant store contact information such as e-mail address, phone number to persons employed by companies having been in contact with Proant in our CRM-system. The data base is in a secure cloud server through Swedish operator. The reason is to handle customer orders, sending product information and keep contact through our customer service. If you want to retrieve your personal information in our database, please send an e-mail to info@proant.se . If you want to be removed from our database, please also send an e-mail to the same address.

Occasionally we send out newsletter by e-mail. This is handled by a third-party program that only includes the e-mail addresses. On each news letter you have possibility to unsubscribe.
